

Higher Education Policy under the Trump Administration: What Lies Ahead?

Date

Monday, March 6th, 2017

15:00~17:00

Venue

Room112, RIHE, Hiroshima University

Language

English

Lecture

Professor Charles R. Barton
University of South Carolina
Beaufort, USA

Abstract

A January 17, 2017 article in The Chronicle of Higher Education noted “There has been no shortage of predictions about what to expect” but “Anticipating Mr. Trump on higher education policy may be especially fruitless” because “We know more about tweets right now than policies.” While this may have been the case in January prior to his Inauguration, the next few months will reveal what to expect for higher education during the next four years. This presentation will highlight what some of those policies will likely be and how they compare with higher education policy during the previous eight years under the Obama Administration.

Registration

RIHE website

<http://rihe.hiroshima-u.ac.jp/en/2017/02/3-6/>

Research Institute for Higher Education (RIHE)

Email: k-kokyo@office.hiroshima-u.ac.jp

TEL: 082-424-6240

